

Dignified Dying— A Behaviorological Thanatology

Lawrence E. Fraley, Ed.D.

This hardcover edition was first published by ABCs (Applied Behaviorology Consultants) of Canton, NY, USA, in 2012. Book editing, design, and layout by Stephen F. Ledoux, Ph.D.

ISBN 978-1-882508-16-7

Printed in the United States of America
(for us$80.00 retail per copy).

Prospective cataloging-in-publication data:

Fraley, Lawrence E., 1936–.

Dignified Dying—A Behaviorological Thanatology /

by Lawrence E. Fraley

xii, 170 p. ill. 26 cm.

Includes bibliographical references, detailed contents, index.

1. Behaviorology. 2. Natural science. 3. Human behavior. 4. Thanatology.

5. Operant behavior. 6. Behaviorism.

I. Title.

ISBN 978-1-882508-16-7 (acid-free paper)

This edition is printed on acid-free paper to comply with the permanent paper z39.48 standard of the American National Standards Institute.

Improved printing number: >10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0
Nearest year of printing: >2050 2040 2030 2025 2020 2015

Copyright Notice/Warning:

Copyright © 2012 by Lawrence E. Fraley. All rights reserved. This book and its contents are protected by the federal copyright laws of the United States of America. Reproduction or copying of these materials, by any means whatsoever, in whole or in part, without the express, hard-copy, written permission of the copyright holder is prohibited and may subject the violator(s) to civil sanctions, criminal penalties, or both. Permission to reprint small parts for worthy purposes may be requested by writing the author. ☞

Contents

Summary Contents

- ✦ Detailed Contents ... vii
- ✦ On Typography & Author Contact ... xi ✦
- 1 Behaviorology and its Cultural Mission ... 3
- 2 Behaviorological Thanatology: Foundations and Implications ... 19
- 3 Protracted Dying: A Natural Science Perspective on the Ethics of Relevant Medical Practices ... 49
- 4 New Practices for Death and Dying: Some Implications of the Natural Science of Behavior ... 87
- 5 Pursuing and Interpreting the Implications of a Natural Philosophy and Science by Using Values Associated with Other Epistemologies ... 113
- 6 The Behaviorological Analysis of Bereavement by Surviving Social Partners ... 121
- 7 Economic Realities and the Cultural Practices of Welfare ... 137
- 8 Behavior, Death, and Life in Relation to Persons ... 143
- 9 Beyond Dignified Dying ... 155 ✦
- ✦ A Basic & Occasionally Annotated Bibliography ... 157
- ✦ Index... 165 ☞

Detailed Contents

Summary Contents ... v

On Typography & Author Contact ... ix

Chapter 1: Behaviorology and its Cultural Mission ... 3

Understanding Cross-Disciplinary Issues ... 3

Philosophical Contributions to Science ... 9

Origins of Philosophical Assumptions ... 9

Natural Science and Agential Philosophies ... 11

The Cultural Mission of Behaviorology ... 13

References ... 18

Endnotes ... 18 †

Chapter 2: Behaviorological Thanatology: Foundations and Implications ... 19

Foundation Principles that Support a Behaviorological Thanatology ... 19

The Nature of Life ... 19

Review ... 22

The Concept of Person and the Person/Body Dichotomy ... 22

Definition and Analysis of Death ... 22

Values, Rights, and Ethics ... 25

Practical Distinctions between Bodies and Persons ... 26

About Bodies ... 26

The relativity of ethics ... 27

Persons and Bodies ... 28

Verbal capacity as a measure of worth ... 28

Codification based on the person/body confusion ... 29

About Persons ... 30

Contemporary Ethics and Practices ... 33

The Legacy of Nuisance Emotional Respondents ... 33

Sudden Death Versus Slow Death ... 36

Myths and Realities about Slow Dying ... 36

Conservation of spirit ... 36

Algebraic dying ... 37

Forcing the “good show” ... 38

The deceptive disappearance ... 41

Concerns and Their Resolutions ... 42

Conclusion ... 47

References ... 47 †

Chapter 3: Protracted Dying: A Natural Science Perspective on the Ethics of Relevant Medical Practices ... 49

Elements of the Natural Perspective ...	49
Natural versus Non-natural Basic Assumptions ...	49
The Natural Science of Behavior and its Philosophy ...	49
The Natural Science Perspective on Values, Rights, and Ethics ...	51
Ethicists versus Advocates of Ethical Agendas ...	52
Contemporary Ethical Practices to Cope with Death and Dying ...	54
Pharmaceuticals ...	54
The media ...	56
Medical versus ethical technologies ...	57
Death Assistance Under Prevailing Medical Ethics ...	58
Another Overextended Ethic: Preserve “Life” ...	61
The biological imperative to survive ...	62
The plight of others ...	63
The affects on Doctors ...	64
The Dilemma of the Doctors ...	65
The Fallacy of Doing Nothing ...	71
Well-Prepared Doctors Sharing Responsibility with an Ill-Prepared Public ...	73
Summary of the Doctor’s Dilemma ...	73
To Be Rendered Inhumane by the Prevailing Ethics ...	74
Persistent Vegetative State ...	78
Conclusion ...	80
References ...	84
Endnotes ...	85 †

Chapter 4: New Practices for Death and Dying: Some Implications of the Natural Science of Behavior ... 87

A Review of Some Relevant Basic Principles ...	87
The Principles that Inform New Ethics for Managing Death and Dying ...	89
Social Death as a New Cultural Practice ...	91
Death Assistance as a Social Service ...	96
Facilitating the Management of One’s Own Death Schedule ...	100
Special Issues in the Self-Management of One’s Dying ...	101
The Cultural Challenge ...	103
References ...	110
Endnotes ...	111 †

Chapter 5: Pursuing and Interpreting the Implications of a Natural Philosophy and Science by Using Values Associated with Other Epistemologies ... 113

- The Importance of Seemingly Relevant Questions ... 113
- Culturally Imposed Martyrdom ... 115
- Practical Decision Making ... 116
- The Respective Worth of Relevant Criteria ... 117
- The Timely Forensic ... 118
- The Counter Control of Superstitious Cultural Conditioning ... 119 †

Chapter 6: The Behaviorological Analysis of Bereavement by Surviving Social Partners ... 121

- Basic Aspects of Bereavement ... 121
 - The Aversive Nature of Bereavement ... 121*
 - Control options according to type of behavior ... 122
 - Worry ... 122
 - Situational entrapment ... 122
 - The Limitations of Escape ... 123*
 - Changing the external environment ... 123
 - Establishing competitive stimuli within the continuing external environment ... 123
 - Channeling Bereavement ... 125*
 - Bereavement Options ... 125*
- Relevant Behavior Processes: Getting Through the Bereavement Process ... 126
 - Suppression ... 126*
 - Preclusion ... 128*
 - Extinction ... 130*
 - Emotional Desensitization ... 132*
- Social Considerations: The Appropriateness of Dwelling on Fond Memories ... 134
- The Myth of Personal Responsibility ... 135
- References ... 136 †

Chapter 7: Economic Realities and the Cultural Practices of Welfare ... 137 †

Chapter 8: Behavior, Death, and Life in Relation to Persons ... 143

- How the Behaviorological Definition of a Person Affects Concepts of Death ... 143
- A Summary of Life and Death ... 147
- The Abstract Person ... 152
- References ... 154 †

Chapter 9: Beyond Dignified Dying ... 155 †

A Basic & Occasionally Annotated Bibliography ... 157

I*ndex ... 165 ‡*

On Typography & Author Contact

This book is set in the Adobe Garamond, Adobe Garamond Expert, and Tekton collections of typefaces. In addition, a valuable basis for the typographic decisions followed in this work (for which the publisher takes full responsibility) deserves acknowledgment. As much as possible, this book follows the practices described in two highly recommended volumes by Ms. Robin Williams (both published in Berkeley, CA, USA, by Peachpit Press). One is the 1990 edition of The Mac is Not a Typewriter. The other is the 1996 edition of Beyond the Mac is Not a Typewriter. (For example, on page 16 of the 1990 book, Williams specifies practices regarding the placement of punctuation used with quotation marks, an area in which some ambiguity has existed with respect to what is “proper.”)

Address correspondence regarding this book to the author at 5754 Kingwood Pike, Reedsville WV 26547 USA (phone: 304-864-6888). (Also, see the pages of Behaviorology Today [ISSN 1536-6669] the journal of TIBI [The International Behaviorology Institute] and visit www.behaviorology.org which is the TIBI web site. Both contain additional material and works by this author.)

Also, the publisher of this book has related volumes that may interest the reader. One is General Behaviorology—The Natural Science of Human Behavior (2008). This is the 30-chapter, 1,600-page, three-course textbook by Lawrence E. Fraley, the author of the present book. The other volume is Origins and Components of Behaviorology—Second Edition (2002). It was prepared by Stephen F. Ledoux and contains pieces by each of the four founders of TIBI including an extensive contribution by Lawrence E. Fraley. ☺